ECF NETWORK SCIENTISTS FOR CYCLING

THE IDEA

As cycling has many different aspects it should be an issue for many different sciences. In any case scientists who cycle themselves, who believe that people should cycle and who want to contribute to the promotion of cycling and to the improvement of cycling policy and the bicycle as a vehicle should be interested in the exchange of ideas, articles, research projects, reports etc. via a network of scientists for cycling. Therefore the ECF starts the network "Scientists for Cycling"
